Appears to have an eating disorder or disordered body image
Change in appearance that seems concerning
Seems overly emotional (above common behaviors)

If more than one resource is listed, contact all resources from left to right. Always follow up with the Dean of Students Office.

Tips on Helping

- Speak to the student in a quiet and secure space.
- Remain calm and guide the conversation by focusing on the student.
- Ask open ended questions, using questions starting with who, what, how, etc. rather than do, are, have, etc.
- Listen attentively and respond to their concerns, directly and considerately, through paraphrasing and summarizing.
- Ask clarifying questions if you are unsure of what their concerns are.
- Share your concerns and encourage the student to seek out the help of University resources.

Common Stressors

ACADEMIC CHALLENGES

Challenges range from students failing a class to procrastinating to learning disabilities.

Signals:

- Coming late to class or being absent often
- Not understanding content and not knowing resources to receive help
- Submitting poor work or testing poorly

What to Do:

- Encourage the student to seek out resources
- Review the student's course performance
- Make suggestions for improvement

Resources:

- Camner Academic Resource Center
305-284-2800
- Writing Center
305-284-2956

SUBSTANCE ABUSE

Alcohol and drug abuse impacts students' daily lives including academic performance.

Signs:

- Repeated failure of academic or personal responsibility
- Pattern of unexplained underachievement
- Denial of negative or harmful consequences of excessive alcohol or drug use

What to Do:

- Treat the situation as serious
- Share your concern and encourage the student to seek help

Resources:

- Counseling Center

- Dean of Students Office
Sandler Center/Pier 21
305-284-6120

SEXUAL MISCONDUCT

The University of Miami has zero tolerance for sexual misconduct and gender discrimination. UM policies and Title IX prohibit discrimination on the basis of gender or sexual misconduct.

Examples:

- Harassment
- Domestic and dating violence
- Stalking
- Sexual assault

Healthcare workers, counselors and members of the Clergy are the only people who are able to take confidential reports.

Federal guidelines define all other staff and administrators as mandatory reporters who cannot guarantee confidentiality.

What to Do:

- Share that you are not a confidential resource
- Listen without conveying judgment
- Share your concern and encourage the student to seek help
- Report what you have learned to the Dean of Students Office or to the Title IX Coordinator for follow up which will include a discussion of all available services

Resources:

- Sexual Assault Resource Team
305-798-6666
- Roxcy-Bolton Rape Treatment Center
305-585-7373
- Dean of Students
305-284-5353
- Title IX Coordinator
305-243-5518
- UMPD
305-284-6666

SUICIDE IDEATION

A suicidal student who confides in someone is often looking for help.

Risk Factors:

- Verbal or written references to suicide
- Feelings of helplessness or hopelessness
- Feeling like a burden to others
- Suicidal threats

Students who are at high risk usually have a specific plan, seek help immediately if you are unsure.

This is a time to connect students with a mental health resource, not a time to keep it a secret on your end or theirs.

What to Do:

- Talk to student in private
- Remain calm
- Take the student's disclosure seriously
- Share your concern and ensure the student that you will connect them with a professional

Resources:

- Counseling Center
305-284-5511
- UMPD
305-284-6666

Do not be afraid to connect a student to a resource. If you are uncomfortable working with a student, seeking help of another UM resource is the best thing for them and you.

UNIVERSITY TROUBLESHOOTERS

Troubleshooters are spread across campus and are experts in their functional area. A troubleshooter is a great resource for a student and for you. If you are unsure of who to reach out to in your academic area, speaking with your department head or chair is a good place to start.

If you are trying to connect with a specific administrative campus area, visiting the website may be most helpful. Visit miami.edu/ombudsperson for a complete list of academic and administrative troubleshooters.

OMBUDSPERSON

The Ombudsperson helps to support students when conflicts or roadblocks hinder their success. By sharing knowledge about institutional policies, identifying options, and connecting students to the best resource to resolve a concern or remove an obstacle, the Ombudsperson will help. They work closely with University Troubleshooters both academic and administrative.

Referring a student to the Ombudsperson when you are not sure how to help is the best way to support our students.

Academic Ombudsperson

STUDENT AFFAIRS RESOURCES

The Division of Student Affairs helps to support student success through programs, opportunities, and services that encourage students to be active in the University of Miami experience. Additionally, Student Affairs staff step in during times of crisis to support students, families, and the entire community.

Vice President for Student Affairs

Patricia A. Whitely 305-284-4922

Associate Vice President for Student Affairs and Dean of Students

Director of Counseling Center

Rene Monteagudo 305-284-5511

GRADES FIRST

The University utilizes the GradesFirst system for executing the mid-term alert process. Each semester, faculty receive a progress report request. This is an opportunity to notify students about their performance in a class and issue an alert if concerns exist. Students and their advisors receive an individual email for each alert issued. Faculty are encouraged to complete their progress reports on each student. Advisors are strongly encouraged to engage any advisee receiving alerts, especially if attendance is a factor for the alert.

If it appears that a student has stopped attending or is missing, please contact Dean of Students Office at 305-284-5353 immediately.

'CANES CARE FOR 'CANES

What would you do for a fellow 'Cane? 'Canes Care for 'Canes is a campus-wide action-oriented initiative that promotes the ideal of a caring and responsible community where students respect and support one another. While this initiative involves a personal commitment to the University community, it also accepts online reports. These enable faculty and staff to easily identify a concern that will then be checked up on by UM administrator. The goal of reporting is to assist students before they reach a crisis level. You can find more information about 'Canes Care and the reporting form at miami.edu/canescare. If you wish to learn more, please call the Division of Student Affairs at 305-284-4922.

STUDENT RIGHTS & RESPONSIBILITIES HANDBOOK

As students at the University of Miami, all students must adhere to policies detailed in the Student Rights and Responsibilities Handbook. This can be accessed at miami.edu/SRR. If you have additional questions, contact the Dean of Students Office at 305-284-5353.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Students who are having ongoing medical issues, personal crisis, or other major issues that may hinder their enrollment in an upcoming semester may have the option to go on inactive status. For more information, contact the Office of the Registrar at 305-284-2294 or the Ombudsperson at 305-284-4922.

WELLNESS & SELF-CARE

To help alleviate stress, foster resilience, and support academic success encourage students to:

- Exercise regularly and engage in active hobbies like taking a walk or playing basketball
- Avoid skipping meals and pack healthy snacks
- Limit caffeine and sugar intake
- Get 7-9 hours of sleep - nap when needed
- Practice relaxation techniques such as meditation or deep breathing
- Know your limits and try to maintain a balance of work and self-care

Students can find support and learn about self-care from the Herbert Wellness Center at miami.edu/wellness or the UHealth Fitness and Wellness Center by visiting wellness.med.miami.edu. Call 305-284-6524 for more information about wellness resources.
